THE CITY

For a vibrant and cosmopolitan city getaway, Rotterdam is definitely the place to go. With its reputation for being a mecca for shoppers, having one of the best clubbing scenes in Europe, as well as offering a flurry of cultural activities, this city also boasts exciting modern architecture aplenty. While it is best known for having one of the biggest ports in the world, there is so much more on offer in this bustling city of 600,000.

Located by the River Maas, the city was badly bombed by the German Luftwaffe during World War II, resulting in its city centre being almost completely destroyed. It was rebuilt in the following decades, with an active architectural policy developed in the 1980s, resulting in many daring, innovative and interesting buildings.

Rotterdam, Amsterdam, The Hague, Utrecht and a number of smaller cities in the west of the country are now expanding toward each other to the extent that the entire area is sometimes denoted as a single metropole known as Randstad.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Rotterdam is well-famed for its dynamic clubbing scene, and it is no surprise that it also has an amazing bar scene where people hang out before hitting the clubs, or chill after a heavy weekend. The Nieuwe Binnenweg area is full of bars where Rotterdam's hip party animals congregate at nights, or head to the Oude Haven or Westelijk Handelsterrein.

In the last few years, Rotterdam has firmly established itself as the clubbing capital of the Netherlands. The city has built up a great reputation as one of the most vibrant clubbing scenes in Europe, evident in its raft of famous DJs and the flurry of bars, nightclubs and dance and house parties.
